

Dear friends,

We were blessed and encouraged by hearing that so many of you are praying for us in anticipation of meeting with the Pal team and making decisions about the possibility of joining this team!! Thank you for praying with us!! The two families arrived in Madang today and our first “meeting” will be tomorrow afternoon. Please continue to pray for all of us as we talk and discuss things beginning tomorrow (about 11 p.m. Wednesday EST). One thing that we didn’t make totally clear in our last email is that this decision is not all up to us. The team may tell us that they don’t think our family is a good fit for joining the Pal work. We don’t know what tomorrow holds, but we continue to rest in our Father’s hands. He knows where He wants us and we know He will make it all clear.

We will let you know any news as soon as we can. Until then, we know many of you like pictures so we’re trying something new to share them with you. Many of you are “friends” with us on Facebook so you may have seen the photos we have posted there. But for the rest of you, we can still share those photos with you even if you don’t have a Facebook account. Just follow these links to some of our recent photos. Enjoy! We’ve had a few people test this out for us, so we’re pretty sure it works. Let us know if you have any trouble.

Thank you for praying with us and for being interested in what the Lord is doing here in Papua New Guinea! There are still so many tribal groups here that have never heard the Good News! Please pray for more laborers to come join us!

Resting in Him,

Bart and Emily
