Dear Praying Family,

Thank you again for your faithful prayers for Baby Jonah and our Family.
This has been our busiest summer ministry wise in many years, we have barely had a moment to write.
Our Computer also crashed, yet again. We were able to repair it, but again lost all our files. We are back online, so here is the update:

After a number of weeks and a difficult time back in PICU, Jonah was transferred last Monday back to Val Halla NY.
He is doing a little better, PTL. Please continue to pray for his recovery. He is taking some nutrition thru the feeding tube, very little, but it's a start. He has a long way to go.

We go one day at a time, there is much to do, but our Heavenly Father is helping us.

Thank you again for your love and prayers.

In Christ's Love,
Marty for Val
